What do you wish for Christmas this year?

Answered by: Deacon Ron Dombrowski

This Advent season is different than any other I have experienced. Yet the promise of Christmas is the same: the same as it was during the Depression years of the 1930s, the War years of the 1940s, or even the domestic turmoil of the 1960s.

The realities and challenges we face change from Christmas to Christmas. However, the promise of Christmas remains the same. For me, one challenge is accepting that I cannot do all that I expect of myself, at least for the moment. Asking for help is not one of my strong suits. However, the prayers that are being offered for me and my family are felt in so many gifts, large and small, in so many situations – God's blessings to us because others ask for me.

Cancer treatments certainly weaken the body; they can also collide with trust in faith. For me, my faith, my personal relations with God have strengthened. Not merely in quantifiable prayer time, of which there is more since I am not working, but a trust in faith – a trust in God. I have trust in God's love, mercy, and promises.

Christmas celebrates the fact that God so loved the world that God the Son became one of us while at the same time remaining God, fully human and fully divine – the INCARNATION.

At Christmas we celebrate the fulfillment of God's promises in Hebrew Scriptures, the Old Testament. We remember the manifestation of God's love for us by becoming one of us, experiencing all that we do in our lives.

Further, there could be no Easter without Christmas. We remember that Christ is our light – the resurrection offers us the hope of eternal life. Christmas is the start of the process for redemption and reconciliation now available to us. At Christmas, God shows himself not as a burning bush, but becomes a vulnerable human child. This is what the Incarnation at Christmas means to me: a fulfillment of ancient promises; a demonstration of God's love and power over death.

This year I apply these promises to my own life, grappling with the fact that my plans and timeframes may not be God's. The struggles and decisions that I and our nation have made over the past year are not all what we would have chosen. Just as people of the 1930s, '40s, and '60s would not have sought the challenges they faced.

Our time is not God's time. Time on earth is limited; we have a finite opportunity to seek and attempt to do God's will. What Christmas assures us, then and now, is that God is with us, God loves us, God is one of us – we are not alone.

Weekly Justice Challenges!

December 21, 2025 4th Week of Advent

We celebrate the Incarnation on Thursday – God taking on human flesh and becoming one of us. This is the ultimate act of solidarity. Jesus embrace humanity in all of its joy and in all of its. Suffering. He truly became “one of us.” We are called to be one with each other as Jesus is one with us. Your challenge during this final (short) week of Advent is to ask yourself which part of God's community you are disconnected from. With whom does God want you to stand in solidarity – locally or globally? Say a prayer every night this week for this person or group of persons.

December 28, 2025 Holy Family

The first week of January is National Migration Week. Mary and Joseph and Jesus were refugees when they fled to Egypt to escape the persecution by Herod. They know what it is like to be strangers in another land. Your challenge this week is to honor those who migrate by educating yourself on the reality and reasons for migration. Go to the United States Bishops' website <http://www.usccb.org/about/migration-and-refugee-services/> and learn about migration through the lens of faith. Then choose one concrete action recommended on the Bishops' website which you can do to stand with refugees in today's world. Or, if you have migrants or refugees in your own community, determine one thing you as a family can do to support them.
